Official's Daughter as Vaudevillian

MISS ROPER IN BURLESQUE ON "BARD OF AVON"

G.W.U. Students to 'Josh' Shakespeare

Left to right—Harry G. Beneman, treasurer of G. W. U. A. A. I. Edwin Harsh, secretary; Leo C. Terry, president of G. W. U. A. A. I. Thomas Chapman, Blackface artist.

Miss May Roper, daughter of the First Assistant Postmaster General, is one of the prominent co-eds in the seven-act vaudeville performance by students of the George Washington University for the benefit of athletics at the institution, which was given its second presentation last night before a large audience in the assembly hall of the Department of Arts and Sciences, 262 G street northwest.

Miss Roper appears in an act offered by the girls of the Phi Beta Phi Sorority, of which she is a member. The act bears the caption of "A Shakespearean Nightmare," and is presented in three scenes—the school for scandal at Inverness, Friar Lawrence's busy day, and the Forest of Arden. Macbeth, "Mrs." Macbeth, Touchstone, Ophelia, Casca, Juliet, and Friar Lawrence all are represented, and Shakespeare's words are ludicrously mixed up. Juliet makes love to Macbeth, arousing the anger of "Mrs." Macbeth, who kills both with a savage-looking sickle, and then turns the weapon upon herself. Miss Roper takes the part of Ophelia, madly throwing hither and thither "onions for remembrance," "crackers for the cracked," and "cabbages for sustenance."

Another of the features of the performance was a series of Greek interpretative dances by Miss Edna Baker, of local terpsichorean prominence. Artistically draped in Grecian scarf, she gave graceful exhibitions of the wood nymph and priestess dances. Miss Baker is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, and formerly was a student at the university.

The show will be repeated tonight. The performance was arranged under the direction of Harry G. Beneman and Edwin Harsh, both officers of the athletic association, under the auspices of which the show is being given.

'WATCHFUL WAITING,' SUFFRAGISTS' POLICY

Resting on Their Oars While Senate Wrestles with Constitutional Amendment.

SITUATION IS MUCH CHANGED

"Watchful waiting" may be said to be the present policy of suffragists here. As the Senators are wrestling with the constitutional amendment which is urged by the suffragists, the latter are resting on their oars to see what will be done in the Senate.

All day yesterday and the day before observant women, representing the movement, were in the galleries and corridors taking in the sights, now and then straining ears or eyes to size up this Senator or that, to discover whether he was "for" or "against."

"The suffrage situation in the Senate and House emphasizes the great changes that have come about in the politics of the United States in the last few years," said Mrs. McMill McCormick, chairman of the Congressional Committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

"The immediate cause is that ten States have enfranchised their women, that 4,000,000 women vote for the highest official in the land, that before another Presidential election there will be added to this column from five to ten States more."

A candidate for office today commences carefully with himself before he announces a platform that does not include the demand of women. Many say that woman suffrage is a matter for the States to decide, but very few say women must not vote and among the ninety-six Senators and 450 Representatives not one has yet been found who does not admit that they will vote some day.

"There's nothing else for us to do just now but watch and wait," said Mrs. McMill McCormick, who is the press committee of the Congressional Union. "We expect the Senate to do something very soon."

GRAHAM REFUSES TO RUN FOR JUDGESHIP

Against Requests of Friends, Decides to Remain as Assistant Attorney General.

Assistant Attorney General Samuel J. Graham, who was a leading lawyer in Pittsburgh before he assumed his present post in the Department of Justice, has declined to accede to urgent requests of political and personal friends that he permit them to present his name as a candidate for the judgeship in the Western district of Pennsylvania, left vacant by the recent death of District Judge James S. Young.

These requests came to Mr. Graham not only from Democratic leaders of Western Pennsylvania, but from many members of the Pittsburgh bar without regard to party. Mr. Graham, after considering the matter, informed his friends that he could not do so, as he felt he owed it to Attorney General McReynolds and the President to remain even at a personal sacrifice.

Mr. Graham has had of all applications for appointments under the Department of Justice, and his retirement at this time would prove a serious loss to the Attorney General.

POTOMAC'S CREW ON WAY BACK.

Effort Will Be Made to Dynamite Ice Crushing Tug.

The crew of the naval tug Potomac, which was abandoned off Newfoundland about three weeks ago on account of impending disaster from the ice fields, will reach New York City Saturday, according to a dispatch received at the State Department yesterday from Consul O. C. Gould, at Curling Point, Newfoundland. All but two of the men, one of whom is Boatswain Wilkinson, who commanded the tug, are well. Wilkinson and another member of the crew have been severely frost bitten and will proceed at once to a special hospital at Brooklyn. Consul Gould also reported that an attempt will be made to liberate the Potomac by dynamiting the ice away from her hull.

EXCLUSION QUESTION UP AGAIN.

"Sneaking Into Country" of Japanese Touches Upon.

The House Committee on Immigration, yesterday wrestled with the Japanese-Hindoo exclusion question, despite efforts of Secretary of State Bryan to "soft pedal" on that topic.

Officially, the Hindoo exclusion bill of Representative Church, of California, was before the committee. But Pacific Coast members could not be checked from venturing off into mention of the Japanese. Roger O'Donnell, special immigration agent, was recalled to detail the border guard maintained against Hindoos, Chinese and Japanese, and the difficulties in preventing smuggling through "underground railroads."

J. J. SUTHERLAND, appointed senior assistant attorney in Post-office Department.

Promotions for J. J. Sutherland, J. A. Nash, and H. J. Donnelly Announced.

ALL GRADUATES OF G. W. U.

Immediate assistants in the office of Assistant Attorney General Lamar, of the Postoffice Department, were appointed yesterday.

They are J. J. Sutherland, of Wilmington, N. C.; John A. Nash, of Pottsville, Pa.; and Horace J. Donnelly, of this city. The first two will hold respectively the positions of senior and junior assistant attorneys. Donnelly becomes law clerk.

All three are graduates of Georgetown University.

Mr. Sutherland entered the postal service through civil service examination in 1905. He has been for some time law clerk in the office of the Assistant Attorney General. He is a member of the judicial bar, having graduated from the Georgetown Law school in 1910 with first honors.

Under the postal regulations the senior attorney acts as Assistant Attorney General in the absence of that official.

Mr. Nash graduated from Georgetown University Law School in 1908 and is a member of the local bar. He has been in the government service since 1904.

Mr. Donnelly was graduated in the graded schools and the Central High School and Georgetown University. He holds the degrees of LL. B. and LL. M. from the latter institution, and a member of the Washington bar.

HORRORS OF WAR MAY BE AUGMENTED BY SET OF PINKISH WHISKERS

Senator "J. Ham's" Blood Is Stirred by Announcement of Probable Committee Appointment.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, was in a warlike mood yesterday. Following an announcement that he probably would go on the Military Committee of the Senate, Mr. Lewis said that if war came he would volunteer.

He recalled that he served in the Spanish war. Just why Mr. Lewis made it known that he was willing to go to war was not made clear, as no one present had mentioned the subject.

It was said last night that the couple will have to spend several days in the hospital.

The bride formerly was Miss Cornelia Deane, of Glen Echo, Md., her husband said to be a machinist employed at the Fifth-Stirling steel plant. Relatives at Glen Echo were notified.

IN THE DISTRICT COURTS.

Harry N. Morrison yesterday was awarded a verdict of $2,000 against the District of Columbia for injuries received November 18, 1911, in H street northwest, near Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Catherine H. Bauer yesterday was awarded an absolute divorce from Edward H. Bauer, residing at the custody of their minor child, and was decreed a monthly alimony of $17.50 by Justice Gould.

Nora Fox yesterday sued the Washington Railway and Electric Company for $5,000 damages, alleging that January 8, 1914, while a passenger on defendant company's car at Connecticut avenue and Q street, the car made a sudden movement, throwing her and injuring her seriously.

Several additional acres of land are sought for the National Zoological Park in condemnation proceedings before the District Supreme Court. The tract sought is located between the present western boundary of the park and between Cathedral avenue and Kilmora road. An appropriation of $107,200 for its purchase was made in the sundry civil bill last June.

A woman by the name of "Mary," a friend and two other women, a dinner at the Villa Flora Club, and a visit to the grounds of the National Zoological Park. The time are some of the striking points in a suit filed by Halle O. Chandlee against Horace C. Chandlee for absolute divorce.

Plaintiff alleges misconduct and asks for permanent alimony. They were married April 18, 1900, in this city, and have no children.

Samuel B. Donnelly, formerly public printer, was the principal witness yesterday in the trial of Peter G. Thomson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, against the Hamilton Hotel, before Chief Justice Chase, concerning the elimination of $100 as a bribe to Maj. Zantizinger, an inspector for the Postoffice Department.

Donnelly testified that Maj. Zantizinger had power to inspect postal card paper furnished by the company, in accordance with a contract with the government. One of the contents of the offense is that Maj. Zantizinger was without authority under the rules and regulations of the Postoffice Department to make such an inspection.

An estate valued at $13,300 is divided by the will of Mrs. Nellie E. Smith, dated December 20, 1912, and filed for probate yesterday. George B. Frazer and S. S. Fletcher are named executors. The following bequests are made: Edith L. Smith, a stepdaughter, $2,000; Marion H. Wood, mother of the testatrix, $1,000; Lizzie L. Hunt, a sister, $500; William J. Hunt, a brother-in-law, $500; Arthur E. Hunt, a nephew, $500; Ethel Hickman, $100, and the remainder of the estate to Marion L. Webster and Edith L. Smith.

Mrs. Sarah B. Washington, a servant, is remembered with a cash bequest of $50. Rachel Doherty Russell, by her will of May 4, 1910, names her daughter, Eliza Ethel Russell Ambros, as sole beneficiary and executrix.

The will of John Brown, dated August 20, 1910, filed yesterday, leaves ten shares of stock each to Laura Brown, David Brown, James Brown, Clara Brown, and Louise Brown. To a niece, Sadie E. McLennan, is left premises 122 E street southeast, and to John W. and David Brown and Sadie E. McLennan testator's interest in the estate of Horace S. Johnson, share and share alike. James H. John W. and Percival M. Brown are named executors.

BIRTH OF "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

To Be Celebrated in Baltimore. President and ex-President to Attend.

Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, of New York City, has accepted the invitation of Mayor James Harry Preston, of the City of Baltimore, to attend the 100th anniversary celebration of the writing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key to be held in Baltimore next September.

President Wilson, former President Taft, former President Roosevelt, and Andrew Carnegie have all accepted invitations to attend the ceremonies. The governors of the fifteen States which comprised the Union in 1814 have all signified their intention of being present.

The President, two former Presidents, many governors and mayors will assemble to do honor to the patriotic song writer, Francis Scott Key, who, while a prisoner in a British fortress in the Chesapeake Bay, shouted a song that never fails to thrill the hearts of all true Americans. The words and music of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and many other "Songs that Never Grow Old" are found in The Herald's song collection which is offered to all and everyone who loves to sing and listen to songs. Read the display announcement and clip the coupon today, which will be found in another column of this issue.
